

Slingshot's Privacy Policy

At Slingshot, we are committed to safeguarding the privacy of our website visitors and service users.

This Privacy Policy governs our data collection, processing and usage practices.

We periodically update this Privacy Policy.

While we will notify you of any material changes to this Privacy Policy prior to the changes becoming effective, we encourage you to review this Privacy Policy periodically.

The latest version is published on this page.

This website Privacy Policy was updated on: 13 January 2021

Feel free to visit and enjoy our website without disclosing any personal information about yourself. However, we offer services, which to work properly, will require you to share with us certain, limited personal information about yourself.

Slingshot's Privacy Policy sets out, protects and makes use of the information you give us when you use our website.

If you are asked to provide information when using this website, it will only be used in the ways described in this privacy policy.

If you have any questions about this policy, please email us at hello@slingshotfilms or write to:

This policy applies where we are acting as a data controller with respect to the personal data of our website visitors and service users - where we determine the purposes and means of the processing of that personal data.

We gather and use certain information about individuals/companies in order to provide products and services.

What We Collect

- Contact information such as email address and telephone number
- Demographic information, such as postcode, preferences and interests
- Other information relevant to client enquiries and project requirements.

How we use it:

Collecting this data helps us better understand how we can help you, leading to better company-client relationships and improved services.

Specifically, the data that we may use is:

- For our own internal records.
- To improve the services we provide.
- To contact you in response to a specific enquiry.
- To send you emails or to call you about a service we think might be relevant to you.
- To contact you via email, telephone or mail for market research and business development reasons.

Our website does not require a subscription whatsoever. From time to time, if we do contact you, it will be specific to a current or potential project.

If this changes any time soon, we shall update our privacy policy and let you know.

Keeping your data safe

We will always hold your information securely. To prevent unauthorised disclosure or access to your information, we have implemented strong physical and electronic security safeguards. We also follow stringent procedures to ensure we work with all personal data in line with the Data Protection (Jersey) Law 2005.

Your rights

You do have rights under data protection law.

You should read the relevant laws and guidance from the regulatory authorities for a full explanation of these rights.

Below are your principal rights under data protection law:

- (a) the right to access;
- (b) the right to rectification;
- (c) the right to erasure;
- (d) the right to restrict processing;
- (e) the right to object to processing;
- (f) the right to data portability;
- (g) the right to complain to a supervisory authority; and
- (h) the right to withdraw consent.

We do have links

Our website may contain links to other websites such as online video platforms and collaborate partners. Please note that we have no control of websites outside the Slingshot Films domain. If you provide information to a website to which we link, Slingshot Films Ltd will not be held accountable for its protection and privacy.

Always be wary when submitting data to websites.

Read the site's data protection and privacy policies fully.

Social media

Any social media posts or comments you send to us (on the Slingshot Films page, for instance) will be shared under the terms of the relevant social media platform (e.g. Facebook / Instagram) on which they are written and could be made public.

These platforms are not controlled by Slingshot Films and we won't be accountable for this kind of sharing. We recommend that you review the T&Cs and privacy policies of those social platforms.

This will ensure that you better understand how they will use your information, what personal information, they will place in the public domain, and what you can do to stop them from doing so if you are unhappy about it.

If you have any questions or queries about this policy, please email us at hello@slingshotfilms.co.uk

We look forward to collaborating with you.
